

Fast radio bursts: models and observations

Thursday, March 26, 2020 9:30 AM (1 hour)

I review present status of fast radio bursts (FRBs) observations and discuss main theoretical models suggested to explain this phenomenon.

In particular, I focus on the magnetar scenario when the source of energy of FRBs is related to high magnetic field of young neutron stars.

Author: Prof. POPOV, Sergey (Sternberg Astronomical Institute)

Presenter: Prof. POPOV, Sergey (Sternberg Astronomical Institute)

Session Classification: Radio astronomy